Electronic Bingo Portables

Electronic bingo computers are easy to use and fun to play! Portable handheld or tabletop devices allow bingo players to play many faces at a time with minimal effort. These machines supplement the bingo experience and allow a player to add dozens of bingo faces to their game play while still enjoying the traditional dabbing play of bingo paper.

Bingo Management Systems

Point of sale units make it easy to run a bingo game! These state compliant units integrate into your handheld device system. Track players and sales. Automate sales and session reports. Load faces and other game play onto your handheld or stationary platform.

A bingo management system can also help you track sales of other products including bingo paper, ink markers and electronic bingo sales or anything else you choose. With intuitive touch screen operation, you also have the ability to set multiple levels of security for your organization. A great tool within an integrated system that's easy for anyone to learn and use.

It ain't grandma's bingo

The 24 Number game is not your same old bingo. Players purchase credits up front and then can select the number of cards to play and the amount of credit to apply to each card for each game.

Key Features

- 24 balls are predetermined each 24 hours

- Player can choose between four different denominations and vary the number of cards in play (between 4 and 9)

- Ability to bingo on every card

- Any winnings are automatically added to the player's balance

- Server pulls from 75,000 or 500,000 card deck

    - One card per denomination per day

    - No card is repeated in each 24 hour span

- System is scalable to fit any configuration large or small

- Choose from portable handheld or table top player units

- For added security, all game information resides on your server – no data or winnings are lost, even in a power outage
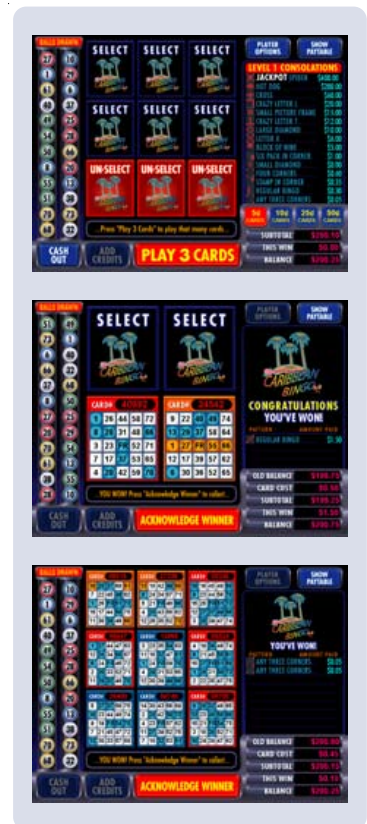

- Ready and approved for Army MWR installations
